Cord blood stem cells american nurses

Storing the cord blood with a private bank means that it is only for your baby and your family’s future use. The cord blood sample is cryopreserved in the storage lab and will only be released according to your instructions cord blood stem cells treatment